

Connected Learning Experiences, Delivered Today

The modern learning landscape is fast evolving, and our approach to learning technologies must evolve and adapt to ensure delivering the best, most holistic learning experience tailored exactly to the organisation's unique needs. To address these market requirements, ACL Digital has developed ACL Learn, a next gen learning experience platform based on Moodle. The platform facilitates real-time collaboration between the trainer, co-students and trainee, enabling intuitive and enhanced student experience with virtual yet interactive classrooms.

ACL Learn enables corporations and educational facilities to create an integrated learning experience to their employees and students with administration, documentation, tracking, reporting, and delivery of online education courses or training programs securely and reliably.
